

Lois Jean Young

June 11, 1941 - March 5, 2021

Comments

“ Thank you for allowing Sister Maxfield and I into your life. We know you are in a better place; free of all pain and sorrow with our loving Father full of joy and peace. We appreciate all the opportunities of service: take you grocery shopping at Walmart, to the bank so you could pay your bills, your doctor visits, helping you with your computer and many trips to the hospital. We learned a many things from you. How frugal you were by burning one light bulb in the kitchen when it was good for three. I replaced the burned out light bulbs so you could have more light and you unscrewed them so only one light was working. Lois was trying to save money. Your wisdom and dry humor kept us a going during the eve of your mortal life. The numerous experiences and life lessons you would tell us about. When we first met you I thought you were old and frail and had a real hard life, with a colorful vocabulary wondering how we could help you. We truly have been the beneficiaries from the time we spent with you. We discovered behind your rough appearance on the outside, inside you have a heart of gold.

1 Samuel 16:7

... for the Lord seeth not as a man seeth; for a man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart

We love you and look forward to seeing you, when we pass over to the others side.

Elder and Sister Maxfield

Elder and Sister Maxfield - March 07 at 09:22 PM

“ We only knew Lois the last year of her life. We enjoyed having Lois over for dinner because she was intelligent and shared many of her life experiences with us. She had lived through many challenges. She loved her two sons and talked of them often. She also loved to share pictures of her two grandchildren. We are grateful to know she is in a better place without the afflictions of poor health. We know she is reunited with her mother and other loved ones. She will live in our memories and the love she shared with us. God Bless You, Lois

Curt and Terrilynne Maxfield

Terrilynne Maxfield - March 07 at 08:27 PM