“ I am so happy that Buck and my momma met. He was the best thing that ever happened to her. They completed each other's lives. You never saw one without the other. Pop's was the best dad that I ever had, even though it was only for 12 years. He brought so much happiness into my life. I enjoyed spending time with him and listening to all the stories he had to tell. I especially loved going to kareoke with him and momma and listening to his oh so awesome voice. When he sang, everyone stopped to listen. Him and mom would song a diet and you could just see and feel the love that they share. I will always love you pops. Thanks for always being there for us. We love you so much and will miss you. I'm happy you are no longer hurting and that now you are at peace. I love you pops. Love Konnie.

“ It was nice getting to know Buck Flynn on Facebook. It was nicer seeing his life changed! I was so thrilled to know that Buck surrendered his life to Jesus Christ when his son Terry was visiting. Like most people, Buck didn't know if he was saved, nor was he sure what it took to now before dying that he was definitely saved. After hearing the nurse at Bucks bed side saw that his last breath was a HUGE SMILE, I knew Buck asked Jesus into his heart, asked for forgiveness and repented from his sins. That HUGE SMILE , was because he was met by his Savior Jesus Christ! How will you end your life? Will you be smiling? Its so awesome he saw the light and not darkness! Are you ready? Ask Jesus Christ to come into your life today! I am there to help you with that if you want to message me.

“For God so loved the world that he gave his one and only Son, that whoever believes in him shall not perish but have eternal life. For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but to save the world through him.”

“ Hello my name is Terry Flynn
I can remember that my Dad was always a hard worker. I remember him walking to work in the snow when the car wouldn't start, I can remember him going to work with no money in his pocket or lunch to eat, but he went anyway. I'm proud to say that is just one of the lessons I learned from my Dad.

But really I just want to clear up one thing, friends and people from my job, and some here in Florida say I sorry you lost your Dad.

I appreciate and understand them saying that, but the fact is, he's not lost. You see about 3 years ago Dad had a bad stroke, the nurse at the hospital had given up on him and wanted to pull the plug. But Bev and my Brother said no give him a little more time. Well 3 days later he walked out of the hospital. I knew I needed to go see him, but I waited about a week and a half. I wanted his strength back and give the cobwebs time to clear out..

Because I had a purpose for my visit. I wanted to ask Dad one question. That really I didn't know the answer to.

I wanted to know,, if he knew that he would go to Heaven when he died. During my visit the conversation finally got around to how close he came to dying, so i just asked.

Dad If you would have died, do you know for sure if you would have went to Heaven?

He said well I would like to think so.... He said I'm a good man and always have done the best I could.

I agreed, yes you are a good man, yes I believe you have always done the best you could. I told him that's not what gets you to Heaven,,,, I explained that you must ask Jesus to be your Lord and Savior and to forgive you of all your sins.

He said son I did that years ago,.... We never talked about this before, I didn't know. You see he didn't understand the gift of Salvation was free. He thought it was something you worked for or hoped you were good enough for. After he learned about true Salvation our conversation on the phone changed,, his post on FB changed.

So when he walked Though the Valley of the Shadow of Death at about 1:30 Thursday morning.

He was not alone, because there is one thing I know. You can't have a shadow without a light. The Bible tells us that Jesus is the Way the Truth and the Light and no one comes to the Father except though Him. Jesus was that light, and was there with him, i believe Jesus took his hand and walked with my Dad.

You see I know that my Dad is in Heaven

And that's how I know he is not lost,

I just wanted to clear that up.

Thank you...
