He enlisted in the United States Navy immediately after high school to serve and protect his country and adequately provide for his family. While doing so he continued to acquire an education in Information Technology and, while battling cancer, he attended school to become an aircraft mechanic. He loved making memories with his family, mechanics, weightlifting, playing video games, cooking, reading his Bible and worshipping God with his favorite songs. He always made a point of staying connected with family through video games, calls or text messages.

Albert was a gift to this world; he gifted everyone with his grace, always wore a beautiful smile and had the best sense of humor. Rarely did he become upset. In the short time he was with us he taught us that life is a gift and should be lived to the fullest, because that is what he did. He will be missed dearly. His memory will live in the hearts of all those who loved and knew him.
