

Alice Anderson

July 15, 1926 - August 14, 2018

Alice Anderson, 92, passed away peacefully at her home in Venice, Florida.

Alice was born in New York City to Jerome and Johanna Weinberg. Besides the deep love for her family, Alice had a lifelong love and dedication to music. At a young age, she studied voice with well known musician and voice teacher, Katherine Bellamann. She joined choirs, took music lessons, and studied with other influential voice teachers including vocal coach Estelle Liebling, the lifelong mentor of Beverly Sills. Alice began her career as a teenager singing with the Mascagni Opera Guild in Manhattan.

Alice met the love of her life, Al, while working for the same Advertising Agency in NYC. They got to know each other well before marrying in 1948. Son John and daughter Ellen completed her loving family.

Always a strong proponent of higher education, she went back to school herself, while working full-time, and earned a college degree in English.

Alice was a member of the Choir at St. Joseph's Church in Libertyville, Illinois, Divine Word Church in Cedarburg, Wisconsin, and Epiphany Cathedral in Venice, Florida.

She was a librarian at the Brainerd Building of Libertyville High School and at Florida International University in Miami. She ended her professional career working for Prentice Hall and Dun and Bradstreet.

She and her husband Al taught English as a Second Language for the Literacy Volunteers in Venice, FL.

She was also a fabulous hostess and gourmet cook.

She is survived by her children and the many friends she made in all the places she lived.

In lieu of flowers, please consider a gift to TidewellHospice.org

Tribute Wall

“ Alice Anderson

October 09, 2023 at 02:01 AM

“ Alice Anderson

January 28, 2023 at 12:09 PM

“ *Alice was a wonderful lady who was so involved with music. It was nice to read of her other life experiences. I knew Alice from her time singing with the choir at Epiphany Cathedral in Venice, FL. She was a welcoming presence to all newcomers and regaled us with her stories of growing up singing at Radio City Hall in NY city. We know that Alice is now singing with the choirs of angels. Condolences and peace to all her family,
. Jennifer Diamond*

Jennifer Diamond - September 16, 2018 at 04:07 PM