“ Amanda today is 2 years since you left us and I still have a hard time with your passing. I just wanted to tell you I love you very much and wish I could hear your voice one more time. Today I have a class and am speaking on my life which you are a very important part of. I will speak very highly of you because you are still my little girl.

I hope to see you in heaven one day, we will have a family reunion. There are so many things I wish I could tell you but they will have to wait. We were so lucky to know you and to have such a sweet daughter.

Remember I (we) love and miss you very much. Thank you God for the time you gave us with this beautiful little girl.

“ A year ago, Jesus freed you from your burdens here on Earth and gave you a second chance. Words couldn't begin to express how much our hearts ache for you, Amanda. I miss your kindness, your pure heart and your nurturing nature. I know that you may not have thought so, but you were such a special person that will never be forgotten by anyone who was blessed with your presence. You stood out like a glimmer in the ocean no matter where you were. I'm such a lucky person to have known you for 24 years, but I wish it could've been more. I will never stop loving you. You will always be a part of my life no matter what. I miss you so much and just the thought of being able to see you again gives me hope and makes me want to be a better person. I love you so much Amanda, forever and always!

“ I went and saw you on your birthday. I can't stop thinking about you and never will. I miss you so much....realizing that I will never see you again hurts so much...the longer time passes the more I come to that realization. . It's the craziest feeling because I feel closer to you now than I ever have. I get to talk to you now every day and I know you are with me, I feel you. You will always be with me and that is such a comfort. I love you so much Amanda, happy birthday sissy!

“ I still can't wrap my head around all of this. I am terribly sad and can't believe you are really gone. I have missed you so much these last few years but I knew you were okay, only you weren't okay and I couldn't help you. I am so sorry I wasn't there. I hope you know how much I love you and always will. You were my best friend for over 20 years. We have been through so much together. There are so many memories that I have and I will cherish everything that we shared. I wish you were here so I could tell you all of this and tell you how much I love you and how much I have missed you. I want to tell you everything that has happened in the last few years and hear everything that I have missed in your life. We could talk for hours like it was only minutes It has taken me almost 2 months to write this because I still don't want to believe this is true and I can only hope that some way you can read this and know that I love you so much. I know I will see you again, through everything we have been through we always came out on the other side together and this is no different. I will see you again one day on the other side and until then I know you will be watching over all of us. I love you always and forever.

“ My beautiful Mandy Pandy Bear. When I met you, you had just turned 3 years old. You were so precious. I loved you right away. I raised you and watched you grow up. You were my darling. Your mom and I had two more children who turned out to be your loving sisters. But you were more than a big sister . . . you were like a second mom. They both so much wanted to be like you. You were a wonderful role model. You taught them good from bad when (of course) they didn't listen to their parents LOL. You were the rock that held the kids together. For that I am forever grateful. In your later years, you would call me on the phone and wonder what football team I was going for, or to wish me a happy Father's Day, or a Happy Birthday, or just to talk. I miss that so much. As I said before there was no 'step' . . . you are my daughter. And I love you and I miss you. I don't know if I can ever get over this.

“ I cannot believe you are gone. Everyday that goes by gets harder knowing you are no longer here. You were the best big sister Ashley and I could ever have had. I know you loved us so much...I just wish I could truly tell you how much I love you and how thankful I am for you. I have so many amazing memories that I will always hold dearest to my heart. One of my greatest memories is when we did our makeup together the day of my wedding. I had so much fun with you that day and I am so glad you got to be there. I love you Amanda so much and will never stop loving you. Say hi to Mawmaw for me ♡
