“ This video was created for the people who knew and loved Anakin, not those who used his death for their own attention (paternal grandparents). This video represents the greatest amount of love that was spread throughout Anakin's short time being with us. Although he is not here, he is loved. He remains in our hearts, our thoughts, and in the most precious of memories.

*Near or far,
Night or day,
In the end we unite,
For love leads the way.*

*No matter how heavy the world may be,
There is no true distance between you and me.
Our hearts are together,
Please hear what I say,
In the end we unite,
For love leads the way.*

*Hate does seem strong,
But Hate is wrong.
While you see no light,
There is reason to fight.
Because of this love between you and I,
We must not give up, we must not ask why.
Although it might be too dark to see,
There is no true distance between you and me.
Our hearts are together,
Hear what I say,
In the end we unite,
For love leads the way.

This truly sickening, and Robin the (maternal grandmother) posting a candle after she killed the child. And Gendron Funeral home for leaving this post up after you were repeatedly asked to remove it. Gendron Funeral home did a horrible job with Anakin's Father for presentation at his own service. You people have no shame. https://m.facebook.com/story.php?story_fbid=1309128962479036&id=100001458341685

James crotty go kill yourself. You don't matter. You are only a waste of space. I honestly would love to watch you die a slow painful death! I wish lung cancer on you and maybe you'll suffer half as much as you deserve!
