“ Andrew - It's taken me this long to try to say goodbye to you. You have left this family in such a state of confusion. I know in my heart you were not thinking clearly when you pulled that trigger. Julie and Janah are now living with her mother. Joseph and Cherish just moved to New York with Amanda. I know that is not what you would have wanted. Amanda is pregnant again. The only good news is that the kids are getting your social security money until they are 19.

Andrew, you have no idea how many people loved you. A good friend of mine had a flag flown over the US capitol on the day you died. I don't know how she got it done - she has connections in DC. Anyway, she brought it to me, with the certificate and the picture of it flying, and gave it to me at your funeral. It was part of your service. Everyone there knew about it. You would have been so proud. We buried in your uniform in a silver casket that had an eagle and flag on all four corners. You would have liked it. You got your full honors burial at Sarasota Memorial Cemetary. One of the guys you served with at McDill just happened to be there that day and was one of the two who helped with your service there. I thought that was pretty special. Joseph got yor flag. It broke my heart to see your children there. It broke my heart not to be able to see your face one more time because of the damage you had done. It broke my heart not to be able to get one more hug. You gave the best hugs! Now I'll neve get another one.

Andrew, I hope you are now at peace. And I hope you know how much I love and miss you. You will always be in my thoughts. Mom

“ Andrew, words cannot express how I'm feeling right now. It's only been 3 days and I'm already missing you like crazy. You left this world too soon. While there are a lot of questions that will never be answered, I find comfort in knowing that you are finally at peace and that you're reunited with your grandfather. You may not be physically here with us anymore but you will continue to live on through Joseph, Cherish and Janah. I love you and miss you. XOXOXO

“ This was very hard to learn about. It gets harder by the moment. I just don't have many words right now. I am thinking of those who survived you. I am sorry for their loss. I am sorry for losing you. It is important for your children to know this was not their fault. I will see you Friday my friend.

“ Andrew,

We were good friends growing up and we had some great times in high school. Remember those times. I love you and I miss you, RIP.

Matthew 11:25-30

Come to me, all you who are weary and burdened, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you and learn from me, for I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. For my yoke is easy and my burden is light.

“ Andrew,
Though you and I parted ways many years ago, memories of you still came to me over the years and I'd think well of you and hope you were happy. I learned of your passing today and was deeply saddened by the news. You were always a good person and I'm sure you'd become a good man too. I know you will be missed by many.

My sympathies go out to your family. Be strong in this time of sadness and know that the love so many have for Andrew will help you get through. Hold the good memories close and cherish every moment of them.

*With love,
Erin*
