“ Billy, I will miss the long talks and laughter. In my heart of hearts I thought I was there to help you but now that you are gone I see it was the other way around. My heart is broken and I'm really having a hard time dealing with you leaving. There are so many "if only" scenario's I play in my head all of which I'm at fault. I love you my brother, can't wait to see you again. Thank you for being my friend, my brother. I will love you till the day I die Billy Drury. Your knuckle head brother. Joseph

“ Billy, I told you the other day that I just wanted you to be my Big older bother and that I wanted you to want to go out places with me. I wanted you to laugh with me like you use to do. I told you I wanted you to show me that "Big Brother" love. You told me that you loved me and that you didn't have time that you needed us to see that the WORD of God is coming to pass and that we belter learn the WORD, study it and tell the people that are in our Churches' they need to stop worshipping the gods and wallowing in the traditions. You told me that we are keeping with the traditions of the world. I did believe you, but I wanted attention. That was selfish of me. You are right Billy and I see that now. There is no time. We need to tell our children and their children and their children's children just like the Bible says. After you shared your heart with me that evening, you never had a chance to say one other thing and I never had a chance to listen. Thank you for being honest, no matter what it cost you personally. I know it is wonderful that you put God first in your life.

“ Billy was an intelligent man who loved God. He was well versed in the scriptures and loved talking about the LORD. He was very dogmatic about the WORD knowing that God meant it just like he said it. He was tenacious when studying an issue or question. He found the answer in the WORD. He worked from the premise that God's work did not need to match other books written, he knew the answer was right there, and he found it...every time. He would converse and discuss the Bible; but, he did not argue the Bible. He believed that we are to contend for the Gospel's sake not for the WORD. He was unwavering in his very strong faith that God's word was perfect and it believed strongly that it does not change. I love you Billie. I love that Big, burley man, that wouldn't allow his sisters to lift a box while he was there, that man that although he was ill himself, put Mama in the car and went from his home in Buckingham to the Orange Juice place way out at the end of Metro and Daniels and bring back several gallons of Orange Juice to Joseph because he was sick with a Stomach virus and while he was at the Juice place, would buy several more gallons of the expensive Juice for my married children. I love you my precious Brother, Billy.
