“ Taking steps in life can be hard.. Thus u did foxy and managed to overcome most obstacles in the way.. You had a wide range of friends from the ocean to the land we walk.. Always on the move.. Taking time out for yourself didn't seem countable always thinking of what next.. Everyone that knew you would see how you were always on the move for someone or something.. I personally told you "bugger everyone it's time to stop and concentrate on you and what you want (your boys).. " strong at first but an underlying darkness crept it's way back.. Sadly u will be missed but always remembered as the FOX.. Forever in our hearts ♡ BEC
