

Brittany Leanne Thompson

May 11, 1992 - March 19, 2016

Brittany Leanne Thompson was born May 11, 1992 to a loving and devoted mother Tammy Storms in Syracuse, New York. Britt as she was known to many was an amazing, vibrant, quirky young women that was full of life and love. As a child growing up in central New York with her little big brother she loved the outdoors and finding mischief when it was presented. As a young women her hobbies included but not limited to scuba diving, collecting clothing, and shoes and playing on the beach with her children. No matter who came across her path, she always had smile, and comical advice to offer. Because of this she grew into an awesome mother of two incredible children. Leaving with warm and loving memories are her children Elijah and Emmeline, mother Tammy Storms, brother, Ian Storms, grandparents, Nancy (Raymond) Walters all of Cape Coral, FL. Along with a circle of four uncles, eight cousins and a considerable number of close knit friends.

“ Brittany had the best laugh and smile of anyone I've ever known. It was impossible to be down around her because she would do something stupid to make you laugh. I think of trips to Wally World, Toys R Us, or KROCK when I need to smile. Always does the trick. Love and miss you Kiddo, always!
