“ Charles I really enjoyed the last time we sat on your front porch and talked. You were very sick, but what a battle you were fighting, You made me realize how short life really is. I lost my husband two years ago and it feels like it was today, but our visit that day has helped me to get through another day due to your strength and will power to fight your cancer. I realized for the first time how much you loved Chris, your children, grand children, brothers and sisters. We have had our differences like everone but your family joined together and showed how much we all loved and cared about you. You will be missed but never forgotton. I Love you Charles.

“ Charlie you will missed very much.We became friends 59 years ago and stayed close friends all these years.We did so many things together.Will sure miss the visits and the friendship.Charlie was a great person,he would help anyone who needed it.Its going to be difficult not seeing you almost every day.We could talk for hours about the younger days and anything else that we thought of.Sure will miss you Charlie.It just won't be the same without you.
