“ My Precious Cheryl--This is so hard for me to write--my whole life somehow still does not seem to fit right. Although I held you and prayed with you that you might go and find that perfect peace-- somehow I can not really let go or come to grips that in this life, I will not see you, laugh and talk with you as we did so often, or go to an empty Ft. Myers and not find you there. I recognize that I am not the first mother to feel such pain and that this pain cannot compare with all that you have been through so I will do my best to let go and see that you are truly in a place where there is no pain and no more tears. From that first proud moment when I held you in my arms until that last day I saw you at last at rest, you have given me all the love a mother could hold in her heart and there it will remain until I see you again. Watch over us until that day comes. Mamalu

“ Cheryl left us when Winter was coming to a close here in Ohio...when the Daffodils were starting to bloom...delightfully reminding us that Spring was just ahead. We are all going to celebrate Cheryl's life forever...but we will especially be reminded of her here in Ohio each year when the Daffodils return. With never ending love-Davey

“ I spent some unforgettable quality time with Cheryl before she passed away and I shared a precious bond with her that was sweeter than I ever could of imagined... one that I will never forget and will treasure for the rest of my life. She was all Cheryl right down to the finish and she encouraged everyone around her to continue celebrating life while she was going through this most crucial battle for her life. She was unselfish in that way...it was her way...always insisting that we keep our ship (Cheryl was the ships's Captain) steady on course and that we not let her critical condition alter us in any way....no matter what happened! She simply wanted us to be happy and strong...and I believe that she still does. That was not easy for some of us...but that's what Cheryl wanted. Dad is now more proud of her more than ever and so am I. I Love you Cheryl and missing you more and more every day A Brief Candle Both Ends Burning An Endless Mile...A Bus Wheel Turning A friend to share the lonesome times A handshake and a sip of Wine So say it loud and let it ring That we're all part of everything The present, future and past Fly on Proud Bird...you're free at last Charlie Daniels

“ Aunt Cheryl, You taught me how to be a strong, independent woman, and never settle for less than what I deserve. I'm so glad I got to spend the time I did with you as a child, and I got to see you well, and happy at the Gay reunion. You are loved, and missed by many. I love you very much Aunt Cheryl.

“ Knowing Cheryl was a joy and I am glad I spent time with her for lunches we had and she came to our last Class Reunion. I went to school with her Mother and you could not ask for a finer person than Jan. We do have two things in common, went to school together and the same birthday. My thought and prayers are with the family knowing that Cheryl is in a place with no pain and just joy. Sheila

“ I loved Cheryl Renz! She was so fun to be with all through school. We lost touch for many years but reconnected through facebook and it was as if we picked up right where we left off more than 30 years ago. She made me laugh everyday and I will smile when I think of her and what a wonderful person she was all the way up to her passing. She will always be a fond memory of mine that I will hold near to my heart for as long as I live. "Thanks for making a difference in my life and for being such a good friend to so many! Rest in Peace." Your Friend, Rebecca aka: "Redbecca"
