“ *The Gardner's were our neighbors for over 30 years and my parents best friends. Our families were always together whether it was getting together for pizza on Friday's, sailing, going on vacations

“ What sorrow we feel at the loss of our old neighbor and friend, David, and feel for his family. Many a good time our families had together, especially the Easters we spent together after we moved to North Carolina. May we always remember the good times. We love you all.

“ Very sorry to hear that Dave has "crossed the bar". Although we only recently came to know Dave through the WSSC, we cruised together the past two summers and enjoyed his company as a consummate sailor, and his love of the Great Lakes. We will always remember him fondly whenever we set sail.

“ I only was with David a few times at family events at Julie's house. He was the nicest person, friendly and outgoing always making me feel like I was so welcome to around his family. He seemed to just love life and was enjoying himself. He has left a great legacy in the two beautiful daughters he raised. Both Julie and Tracey are great people they always show such a love for people like their father did. He will truly be missed. My heart goes out to you and hurts for you all in your dealing with the loss Joannie, Julie and Tracey of a great man.

“ We are so sorry and shocked to hear about Mr. Gardner's passing. We have been friends with Julie and Athan for many years and we feel very blessed to know them and Julie's parents. David and Joni always welcomed my family and I to their home. I know how close Julie was to her father and I pray that God gives her the peace and courage that she needs right now. “ Dad, I can't stop crying. I miss you so much, I keep waiting to wake from this horrible dream. I miss so much about you! I miss your smile, your laugh, your confidence, your patience. I miss you calling me "kiddo", I miss you saying things were "fine" when they were better than fine. I miss you telling me "stop worrying about it, what good will it do." I miss your awful peanut butter and butter sandwiches you would make me, when I was a kid and home sick from school. I miss you telling me that I only have 30 more years till I could retire, and then you would laugh about it. I miss you joking about how you have 2 part time jobs, "sailing and golfing" you would say. There's soooo much I miss about you dad, but most of all I miss YOU! I LOVE YOU DAD and have to believe that God is taking care of you. I love you dad, Julie

“ March 23:

45 years ago today my parents got married and began their journey as husband and wife, and later as Mom and Dad. The example they set for me and my sister on how to have a loving marriage is something I'll forever be grateful for. I know my dad is with me today on my birthday, and I have no doubt he is with my mom on their anniversary. He hasn't left our thoughts for a moment and I know I have to be thankful that he lived his life exactly the way he wanted to, right up until the end.

Happy Anniversary, Dad and Mom.

“ My Dad - March 16, 2013

Posted: March 18, 2013 | Last Revised: March 19, 2013

I have extremely sad news to share. My dad, my hero, my role model, my rock, passed away to acute leukemia last night at 10:55 pm. He was not only an incredible dad, he was an awesome grandpa, husband, son, brother, uncle, friend, and teacher. He was a sailor, and an avid golfer who loved life and lived it to the fullest. Every time I hear a few of his favorite songs "Sailing" by Christopher Cross and "Beautiful" by James Blunt, I will be reminded of the wonderful father and role model he was to me and my sister. I will miss him every single day for the rest of my life. Even though my kids are young, they will remember their "bampa" as my 3 year old daughter Lilly called him. I will share pictures and endless stories of him to my children. His memory will go on forever. He fought Myelodysplastic Syndrome for the past year and it suddenly converted to Acute Myeloid Leukemia and was extremely fast and aggressive. If you knew my dad, you would know that he was a fighter, the strongest man you would ever meet and fought this battle until the very end. I feel extremely lucky and honored to be able to say he was my dad. I love you dad, and I know you are with God in a much better place than here. My love for you will go on forever, until I see you again someday.

“ I'm David's daughters (Tracy) neighbor. My name is sandy. I first meet David just after Tracy moved into the house next door. The day he meet me he asked Tracy after I left "who's the teenager. Haha!! At the time I was about 34. Next time I saw him I laughed at him and said Thanx buddy!! What a great family he and Joanie created. The two of them together were so cute, I hope my marriage lasts as long as theirs did. I think about how much my kids cared about David and it breaks my heart that he's no longer with us. He will be missed by so many people. I'm so glad I had the wonderful opportunity to know him and his family even if it was for a short time. I will treasure that!!!
In sadness, Sandy Simonson.
David, great heart, strong willed, kindness man. That's how I describe him.

“ Julie (Mr. Gardner's daughter) is a good friend of mine. We grew up together on Melrose and I spent a lot of time hanging out at the Gardner's house when I was a kid. Mr. Gardner was a loving father and grandfather. The Gardner family all shared a fondness for literature and writing. I found this shared interest to be quite touching. I remember spending summer nights sailing with the Gardner family. Mr. Gardner was always comfortable, calm, and content when out on his boat. He loved to share his passion for sailing with others and I'm grateful that he introduced me to the complexities and patience of sailing. He will be missed. My thoughts and prayers are with Joni, Julie, Tracy, and the rest of Mr. Gardner's family during this incredibly difficult time.
