“Sunie, I think Tom Armstrong summed up pretty well my impressions of big Dave - the Fedora hat, the smile, the twinkle in his eyes, fun and funny, charming, a big bear with a big heart, and a great dancer. And although, it has been quite a while since Myron and I have been out and about with you all and much has changed - these memories of big Dave will always remain in our hearts. Love to you and hugs, Vickie and Myron.”

TO

“It was always a fun day when big Dave would come to Wings, he was fun, love, joy and jokes all wrapped up in one big guy. He made everyone laugh even when it wasn't his intention. He will be greatly missed by all who were fortunate enough to call him their friend.”

“ We called him Big Boy! But he was the man who lived in the White House his entire life. A real man’s man and, accordingly, one the ladies loved. The man with a heart bigger than his frame. A man who danced with the lightest step on the floor - with the confidence most men only dream of. The man loved by all.

David R White: The man for whom I thank God was in, and was a part of, my life. A man I am proud of.

Thank you my brother... for all of the laughs and for all of my memories that you are responsible for and are a huge part of. Your passing will not diminish or erase my memories, it will only enhance and preserve them.

David R., thank you for this part of my life. I am for sure a better man because of you.

Love you, brother. Rest now. See you again soon!
