“ We were blessed to have Don and Norma as neighbors. Don would spend hours with Richie's mother in front of the house regaling her with funny stories. She was a widow who was 11 years older than Don and would sit outside almost every morning hoping to talk to one of the neighbors. It was a special time reminiscent of the “old days”. He was the policeman of the neighborhood and it was so fun to see him zipping around on his electric bike. Our deepest sympathy to Norma and the family. Best wishes, Mary Anne and Richie
