“ Too soon Uncle Greg! Too soon. Sincere condolences Karen! I'll remember the goofy laugh and compliments about the family. Will remember the stories about Grandpa and Grandma. Will remember the season of my early years of running and road races. I remember being inspired to have dance contests with my neighbors thanks to his infatuation with disco and Saturday Night Fever. May you run and dance your way into eternity....

“ Our world is one less today then it was, we reflect upon the book that was this mans life, now carried by those who knew him best. Pass on his ideas, jokes, wisdom to others so that all will be come enhanced by his life even more. He continues to exist in the minds of all those who know these things, so spread it around. Although the story is done, the book is not forgotten. Best to all of you, the keepers of his story.
