“ Smiling, funny, and always a kind word Hector was a sincere friend. Having been honored to know him and his beautiful wife Deanne for about five years, our lives have been so much richer for their kindness and friendship. From dinner parties to golf courses Hector was the best companion to have by your side. Although “semi retired “ Hector life’s work of mentoring underserved high school students assisting them with their college entrance preparation was celebrated by each student he helped and those students will keep his legacy alive. Hector will be desperately missed by his family and friends.

“ I went to school with Hector at HBS. Hector was a happy man. I always got the feeling that Hector was quietly humbled and somewhat surprised at his success I know many will miss him. Let's remember that he is in a better place now and all his earthly struggle is over. God loves Hector- Of that we all can be sure.
