“ Our family knew her as "Cokie Baby". Her southern accent was like no other. I started doing her hair 37 years ago when I had my salon in my home and she lived right down the street from us. The day we moved in she was so gracious to bring us a large platter of fried chicken and homemade potato salad. Cokie attended many of our family events and loved both of our sons, Matt and Philip. She was particularly attached to Philip because he was just a baby when she came to the shop and she often watched him for me. She continued her closeness with him over the years always calling him her "Philip boy" and talking with him on the phone even up to her passing. She was very gifted with writing beautiful cards for any occasion. She would work for hours to pen just the right words that she wanted to express. She loved to sing! She penned songs about her Alabama. She sang in the choir. She would step out of her small apartment room and reach out by letters to Senators and Congressmen and even Presidents to address issues that concerned her. It just amazed me. Even tho I had relocated to Orlando in the recent year we kept in contact by phone. Inez was a dear friend, I will miss her. I know without a doubt she is singing with the choir in Heaven and I'll see her again one day!

“ she was such a joy. I work for Dr Brueck and have known her for a long time. I tried to find her the past few months and wondered about her. She was a wonderful gal. If any family member could call me sometime at our office. She had written something for me at the time of my moms passing. it was so beautiful. she will be missed by many,
