“ Isaac was my first boyfriend, and the first guy i ever fell in love with. It's crazy to think that was almost 5 years ago. Even though we werent close in the last few years, i thought about him constantly. His death hit me so hard. I carry him with me every single day, everything he was. if it hurts this bad for me i cant imagine how his family feels. For the longest time he was the best friend i ever had and gosh i miss him dearly. He was one of the greatest people to walk this earth. bye bye sweet boy, i dont know if im ready to let you go.

“ Issac was such a great kid and goalkeeper. He was one of the first kids I met when I moved down to Florida. I enjoyed playing and training with Issac because he worked so hard and always pushed me to be better every day. My thoughts and prayers are with the family during this difficult time.

“ Isaac was my 17 year old grandson who we were just getting to know each other as adults. I took him and my daughter fishing for the first time in Tennessee. He didn't catch anything but he mastered catching trees. Of course we had fun with him over it but he was happy he got to go fishing with his grandpa. He was my only grandson and I'll miss him for sure. The last time we saw each other I told him I loved him and don't ever forget it. He smiled and his eyes teared up and said I won't. Even though his first fishing trip was a no catch for any of us he had a blast. He was so proud to have a fishing license in Tenn. I was looking forward to his next visit to Tenn. and go fishing again.

I love you bud and I'll never forget you as long as I live. I was so proud of everything he accomplished in just 17 yrs. God Bless You Zack I love you 🙏❤️
