“ Jayson P Morgan was the one constant through several decades of my adult life. We met in 1986 as I was a teenager learning how to navigate the Houston club scene. As we soon became friends beyond the clubs, I was able to tell that this guy would always go out of his way to help if someone needed it. We evolved through multiple adventurous travels with small groups of friends to beach locations, winter ski trips, and even international destinations. Through a couple of business ventures, I knew I wanted Jayson involved and he was there at the asking. Everyone that I knew that got to know him recognized his uniqueness immediately. Jayson, my friend, I want you to know that you will always occupy the role of best friend and I am thankful to have the memories of you and the time you spent with me and my family. You will be forever missed.

“It's strange the way very few, special people actually become part of your life. So many friends come and go. Jayson was one of those very special people to me.

We became friends in Houston in the late 80's, maybe 1986? We became part of a close circle of friends who helped define the nightlife scene. Jayson became a star among many satellites. Something was a bit different about him - his style, his smile, his sincerity, his talent.

As time moved on, we kept in touch. One time on vacation when my girlfriend and I were in Fort Lauderdale, Jayson picked us up in a luxury SUV and drove us to South Beach. We all hung out at the pool at the Fountainbleu for a few hours - a priceless memory. He didn't have to do that, but that's the kind of friend he was. He wanted to spread joy.

When he moved to Vegas, I encouraged his efforts to work with Cirque du Soliel and apply his monumental artistic talents. Cirque benefited from his talents for many years thereafter and he thrived. I spoke with him as he traveled with the shows and he was totally in his element - very happy. I also visited him three times in Vegas during business trips and we clicked back together just like no time had passed. We had fun.

Jayson had many friends in Houston who cared about him and kept in touch, either directly or through me. He was always there for me and I tried to do the same. The last time I spoke to Jayson was at 5 AM on April 12th - 6 days before his passing - when he called to tell me happy birthday.

He remains a star in all of our minds and heart, and that will never change. Jayson may have left the building but his spirit lives on in our hearts.
