“ Each day is something new. A new emotion, a new memory or just another day missing you. We love you Dad. Thank you for the beautiful rainbow outside my office this morning. I saw your ambulance that we last rode in together and above that was your beautiful rainbow. It the feather and rainbows that get me through my day. I don't you wouldn't want anyone sad and for us to focus on mom. That is what we are trying to do each day and make new memories and cherish the time we have. Christy is taking mom to lunch and out shopping. We are having your favorite soup tonight for dinner. Love you more than you know.

“ I worked AND served with Joe for many years at First Alliance. Joe was involved in Bible studies, small groups, men's ministry, PrimeTimers and more together with his beloved wife Jan! He was a blessing to so many! Always remember how Joe would ask me to pray with him about many people he loved and situations God put on his heart. Rest in eternal peace, my friend! Praying for you Jan!

“ Our deepest condolences for your loss Jan, Stephanie and family. Mike Rankin said it best about Joe. Joe had a passion for following Jesus and was open and honest about his relationship with Him. Joe and Ronnie and a few other brothers from First Alliance were in a weekly Men's Accountability Group together, I drove Joe back and forth from his home in Englewood to church in Port Charlotte and heard story after story from Joe about growing up in New York, the family's restaurant business (how to make a great pizza), but mostly about his love for Jesus. There is no doubt in my mind that he's by the Savior's side, finally able to rest in his presence, knowing that his work is done. One of Janet and my favorite memories of our FAC Small Group was the first time we met Joe/Jan, Ronnie, Frank/Joyce, Steve/Judy and others....it was loud, and everyone was talking with their hands...and we came away from that first meeting laughing and thinking we'd better step up our game if we want to get a word in edge wise! LOL. We loved that group, and our memories of Joe will always be wonderful ones. Rest easy my friend.

I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. Now there is in store for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, will award to me on that day—and not only to me, but also to all who have longed for his appearing. 2 Timothy 4:7-8.

“ I first met Joe in a time when we were starting a new church. This would become some of our best days. Joe and I had a passion for Men's Ministry with a goal of seeing Men get free in Christ. Promise Keepers events were powerful times. We made several trips and watched Men change their lives. Joe introduced me to Emmaus. The ultimate three days with Jesus. The very best was when Joe took the lead role and I had the privilege of serving and supporting Joe. He was so humble and I think it was one of his finest moments serving Christ. Joe never hesitated to speak his mind. You think? I loved that quality and it provided us with many laughs. I can still see that laugh with the half smile and humility that was only Joe

PROVERBS 18:24 NIV

One who has unreliable friends soon comes to ruin, but there is a friend that sticks closer than a brother

While family is important, this Proverb points out that a close friend can provide a level of support that can be as strong, or even stronger, than family relationships. Joe was a true Brother in Christ and these were special years we had together. The entire Caminiti Family showed me nothing but love and I am forever grateful. I will see you soon, Joe.

With the start up of Fellowship Church I met Joe, and started a friendship with a guy from NY that was not afraid to give his opinion. At first I was a bit shocked, but I quickly found a wonderful friendship in Joe. I started to get to know Joe's heart for Jesus, and we both had a desire for Men to have their freedom in Christ. We shared so many great times in Men' Ministry. We planned several Promise Keepers trips and witnessed Men absolutely breaking bondage and getting free. Joe introduced me to Emmaus and we shared several weekends. The absolute best was when Joe was lead and I got to serve on his team. I loved watching humble Joe lead us. I always loved that half smile and humbly ducking his head. That kept Joe in good grace after telling it like it is. Proverbs 18:24 NIV One who has unreliable friends soon comes to ruin, but there is a friend who sticks closer than a brother. While family is important, this Proverb points out to me, that a close friend can provide a level of support and connection that can be as strong, or even stronger, than family relationships. I will always cherish those days and the love and support from the entire Caminiti family. I don't know if God will allow us to watch THE GODFATHER marathon, but it's sure going to be awesome to see that smile. Thanks for being my brother in Christ

ME

“ I met Joe shortly after becoming a believer, and he and Jan quickly became a steady presence in my life, which played a huge role in shaping my spiritual journey.

Whether it was time spent together at church, after church, diving into Bible studies, breaking bread (the best calzones), being served at Emmaus, or serving alongside one another—it may have been all of it. Whatever it was, the only way I can explain it is that it felt like a little slice of Heaven right here on earth. Words always seem to fall short when I try to describe that season—and maybe they always will. But God knows, and I regularly thank Him for it.

When someone leaves an imprint on your soul, their name becomes part of your testimony. I will forever be grateful to you, Joe. You showed me what walking with Christ truly looked like, and it did not mean “looking” like you had it all together. No one does, and that’s not obtainable, nor is it relatable. Your love for Jesus was contagious. You were open, genuine, and deeply understood the value of Christian fellowship—so much so that you made your home a gathering place each week, several times a week. You knew who God was, and just as importantly, you knew who He wasn’t. You spoke with conviction, never shying away from the truth, and you consistently shared the impact Jesus had on your life.

That kind of investment in my life left a mark that still influences me today. Because of your example, my husband and I strive to do the same. I’ve seen firsthand how powerful that is~ in shaping someone’s walk with Jesus~ and I don’t know any other way to thank God for putting you in my life!

I have so much more I could share, but I’ll save it for when I see you again, my faithful brother in Christ.

With love,
Melanie

“ Our lives go on with you, but nothing is the same. We have to hide our heartache when someone speaks your name. Sad are the hearts that you and silent are the tears that fall. Living without you is the hardest part of all. You did so many things for us, your heart was kind and true, and when we needed someone we could always count on you. With the love that is in our hearts you will walk with us forever.

“Dad, you have no idea just how much I miss you and how you are missed. I know in time my heart will start to heal. You always said we are the same and you are exactly right. I wanted you here forever and God was calling you home. I still don't understand the timing and I wanted nothing more than to see you through to the very end. That is exactly what I did. I wished I could have shared my dream with you because it played out just like it did right down to you making a decision you know I would have never been able to make nor would mom. As painful as it is I now see it was your gift to me. One we both/all fought so hard to not have to make. Dad, thank you for allowing me the privilege to take care of you as best you would allow without taking your choices and dignity away. Thank you for allowing Andy to be there for you when mom and I couldn't and for gaining not just a son-in-law but another son. I know you counted on him a lot and he loved being here for you. The best gift you gave me is the ability to carry on what I know you wanted most and that was your love for God and to share with others and most importantly to put Christ first in our marriage. I know you are now with God and in heaven and are now my guardian angel who will never leave our sides. Thank you for being my father forever and always. Know that I will always drink our special Blueberry iced coffee and have one just for you. In the beginning it is child to parent, In the end it is parent to child. I will never ever forget that and will hold it close to my heart each day. I love you dad ❤️
