“ Nathalie,
Its been 8 years since you passed. my life has changed drastically since. I often wonder what you would think of me now. Every single day of my life, I wish that I was on the other side of that car. I'm so sorry and I miss you so much. I still havent been able to get past what happened. i cant cope through it, i wish you could help guide me. i wish i could hear your voice just one last time. i wish i could have a conversation with you. i wish i could go back to the days of me and you having tea parties and playing msp, justdance, littlebigplanet, and with your my little ponies. i wish i could eat ice cream and pizza and watch movies with you again. i miss you more than i can even comprehend. i am so sorry that you had to go so young, before you got to experience so much. ill be an adult in less than a year but deep down im still the same kid who went to the park with you and played dolls with you. i dont think ill ever grow out of it, i cant move on. life is so scary without you. i love you nathalie, i hope you know that, wherever you are.

Samariah,

*I think about you girls often and hope that you are doing well. I know how close you and Nathalie got in my class 3rd grade year and how much like sisters you were. I still take care of the tree they planted in her honor. I put beautiful flowers around it and there is now a beautiful bench with purple butterflies on it in front of the tree in the courtyard. I tell my classes every year about you girls.
I hope you are doing well,*

I am Nathalies Grandmother. I just saw this link for the first time. My heart has been touched so deeply by your beautiful memories if her. Thank you Andrea Griffen for the dedication ant attention you have put into her garden, you have no idea how that has touched me deeply. I have a recent picture of her tree and how you care for it and make it beautiful in memory of her. It comes up on my computer every day. Bless your heart for doing that. Sam I would love to hear from you sometime if you would care for that. I miss her everyday and always will until I get to see her again. Thank you both for your sweet heartts.
