I found out today, Nikki. We were coming JUST to see you and I wanted to get your update and tell you what I've been up to! I strolled up in the place foolishly confidently asking for you. Braydon headed for our table. My heart broke today, so did his. I love you and wish I could hug you just one more time! You had the BEST HUGS and I MISSED YOU TODAY AND ALWAYS WILL. I'll keep going back just for you, my awesome, badass, invincible friend! Prayers for your family to find peace. Anything I can do for family, let me know.

“ My family and I were saddened to hear that Nicki had passed away suddenly. We grew to love Nicki and the entire Jones family many many years ago, when Nicki was just a little girl. Roberta (Nicki's Mother) was my best friend, so we spent lots of time in their home and Nicki would always give the best hugs, even as a teenager coming or going, she would always show her love and affection. That was Nicki, a very loving, caring young lady and even more so as an adult. Although we lost touch over the years, when I'd see her out and about she never failed to take time to visit and give a big hug or two. As a teenager, she came to Ft. Worth (where we lived for several years before returning back home to TN), to spend the summer with us. She and her friend Michelle Foster were so full of life, seemed to have so much fun. We even trusted them enough to let them use one of our vehicles (if that car could have talked...ha). They would call my husband and I Mom and Dad during their visit, which was hilarious. I loved Nicki before their visit, but we bonded even more during that summer, a bond that carried over into her adulthood. Nicki will be missed by all who knew and loved her. I know spiritually from so many years ago that she knew the Lord as her Savior and she is now with her Mother. God Bless and keep her family and friends in the days, weeks and months to come. Please know that my family will be lifting you up in our prayers. God will be your strength and He'll give you peace during this time of loss. With love, Charles & Trish Watson
