November 26, 1933 - May 15, 2020

On Friday, May 15, 2020, Pedro Davila loving husband, father and grandfather passed away at the age of 86.

Pedro was born on November 26, 1933 in Junco, Puerto Rico. He grew up in a large family and this instilled his love and dedication to his family.

Pedro had a passion for Baseball and hard work. After a long day at work you would find him watching his favorite Baseball team and telling everyone about which player was the best. This passion was instilled in his grandchildren and you would find him playing catch or going to Little League games to cheer them on like they were professional players themselves. His hard work and long hours were to ensure his family had anything they wanted. His love and dedication for his family would never go unnoticed by others. He was known for his jokes and always being there for his family.

Pedro will finally join the love of his life Gloria in heaven where they will watch over their family, hold hands, and tell each other jokes. He is survived by his three children Gloria, Pete and Maggie. He was a father figure to his grandchildren Fredrick, Monica, Michael, Erika and PJ. His great grandchildren Jordan and Alexis have many fond memories of him.
