

Peter Lee, Sr

March 4, 2011

Peter Young Sing Lee Was Born February 23rd, 1925. The second son of five children to Arthur George & Phillipa Lee in Bainsville, San Juan. Later, George Lee moved his family to 4 Concord Rd. At the age of 18 Young Sing got his first job in Arima. The day he received his first paycheck, a family friend named Bacoo Bagghan came to his job and told him his father died. Young Sing and his older brother Errol was now placed into the position of being the bread winners for the family. Young Sing got a job at the then US Naval Base in Chagaramus. He was a conscientious worker and because of his dedicated labor, was promoted to manager of his department where he stayed in that position for several years. Later, he began working for Singer Sewing Machine company. In his early twenties Young Sing met Zita Reyes and their union in marriage bought forth 10 children. He faithfully took care of his mother and siblings. As his business prospered, he opened another Singer Sewing machine store and hired someone to work with him. One year he won an award for being the top Singer sales man in the Caribbean Islands. As the children grew in spirit and truth, Young Sing and Zita took their family to the US. He got a job in the US Virgin Island working for the First Pennsylvania bank as Credit manager. At age sixty-seven he planned to retire, he was so good at his job, the bank board of directors did not want him to retire. They asked him to stay for six months which he did. After the six months was finished, the bank board of directors asked him to stay for another six months. Again He gave in to their request. Young Sing worked at the bank for another two years based on six months intervals. This went on until he reached seventy. He finally turned down the request to work for another six months and retired at seventy years in Lehigh Acres, Florida. At Lehigh Acres he took life easy, and refused to work part time. When asked if would consider working part time, he would say retirement means no more work. Peter Young Sing Lee of Lehigh Acres Florida died on Friday 4th March 2011. Beloved husband of Zita.
