“ I had the pleasure of working with Rich at multiple companies. I was just starting my career and he was the old-school mainframe developer. He took me under his wing and we became great friends.

I remember going to the movies with him to see Indiana Jones and the Kingdom of the Crystal Skull.

Rich RIP, you are sorely missed.

“ Richard was my half-brother, we had the same father. I remember Richard as being quiet and introspective. I was the youngest and remember trying to get the boys to let me play cards or monopoly with them. Richard always gave in and let me play for a bit. Sometimes he would drop by the house when I was older and just hang out - he would ride his bike over to the house. Our dad was very proud of Richard and his accomplishments. We would drive up to Chicago when he had his first job there. I thought he was so cool in his studio apartment. My brother was a good guy. He will be missed.
