“ On the Monday morning of 29 November 1954, when Teri was born, I was there in the room with her. I am her mother.

At the military hospital, there was one large ward shared by several new mothers. Each morning about six o'clock, the nurses brought the babies into the ward to their mothers who would care for them until 10:00 p.m. each night.

Dr Johnson made his rounds of the ward early each morning to check on both mothers and babies. He stayed with each mother and baby awhile giving time for a quick check and questions and answers.

He spent extra time with Teri. Dr Johnson was fascinated to find that Teri could see as most newborns cannot see so clearly as to follow the movement of an object. Each morning, he would move his hand back and forth in front of Teri's eyes noting that her eyes followed the movement of his hands. On one or two occasions, he used his pen. Back and forth, up and down. Teri's big brown eyes followed movement of his hands and pen.

Dr Johnson was quite impressed. He called her "Bright Eyes".

Teri was always ahead of the progress charts for babies. She pulled herself up in her crib and soon walked about in the crib while holding on to the rails. She was crawling everywhere well before she reached 5 months. She soon started walking about the house while holding on to furniture, and later taking a few steps without holding to anything.

On 28 September of 1955, the day before she was 10 months, her father and I celebrated our 2nd wedding anniversary. Teri celebrated with us by walking - no holding to any object and no stopping or falling down. She was walking and turning corners. She was ready to go, full speed ahead.

She was always my beautiful, beautiful "Bright Eyes".

“ There are no words to describe the heartache I feel in losing you. I do take comfort in knowing that you are no longer in pain but it doesn't make it any easier. I love you mommy!!

“ To Brent, Daryl, Michelle and Melissa, while I didn't stand and say a few words for Teri at the funeral like I wanted to, it's just I wouldn't have made it thru the first sentence. JUst letting you know how much you have touched our lives, my family will cherish all the great memories we made thru the years. Our families grew up together and with Teri those times meant so much to us. And yes she cut my hair a lot too. Will think of you everyday.

Psalm 116

*1 I love the Lord, for he heard my voice;
he heard my cry for mercy.*

*2 Because he turned his ear to me,
I will call on him as long as I live.*

*3 The cords of death entangled me,
the anguish of the grave came over me;
I was overcome by distress and sorrow.*

*4 Then I called on the name of the Lord:
“Lord, save me!”*

*5 The Lord is gracious and righteous;
our God is full of compassion.*

*6 The Lord protects the unwary;
when I was brought low, he saved me.*

*7 Return to your rest, my soul,
for the Lord has been good to you.*

*8 For you, Lord, have delivered me from death,
my eyes from tears,
my feet from stumbling,*

*9 that I may walk before the Lord
in the land of the living.*
