Tommy grew up in Brockton, MA and recently relocated to North Port, FL. After moving to Florida, he began working for Beacon Building Products where he made many friends and enjoyed riding his Harley in his spare time.

His family remembers him for his love of children and willingness to always lend a helping hand to anyone that needed it. Tommy loved his kids, his family and friends, 80's rock bands, his leather jacket and his motorcycle amongst many other things. He was passionate about muscle cars and along with being proficient in numerous construction trades was a skilled mechanic.

The family would like to thank trauma nurses Sierra and Christy along with the many other staff at Sarasota
