“ Gurl, my heart is shattered. You were my sweetest friend in middle school and our girls carried on the tradition. You had been on my mind but we had lost touch. I spoke about you and the day in the bathroom when, I walked in evening the odds and the two girls that had you cornered, decided this wasn't their lucky day after all. We had do many laughs. It broke my heart when I at 13 got chicken pox and couldn't stay at your house as we had planned. Your love of life, horses and your babies. Thank you for loving my gurl when she was hating on me. I have always carried a happy place in my heart for you. Oh Vik 🥺🥺🥺 I'll see you soon 🥰
