“ When I'm above the clouds flying at work I think of Whitney worrying about what she should wear for her interview at the airline .I start to laugh. She was so pretty it didn't matter what she wore. She was just such a beautiful person. I still can't believe that I can't just call her to catch up. It breaks my heart still “ Whitney, I hope you know how much you are loved. You were a special part of our lives from the first day we met you. You were an incredibly courageous and giving woman. You lived more and did more in your 50 years than most people will given a lifetime. No Fear should have been your motto. I will miss you every day of my life. Someday, I will be able to look back at my memories of you without the grief that I feel now. But not yet, no, not yet.

“ PeeWee,
I'm sorry we didn't have a chance to say good-bye. Hope your are having a shot of tequila and a cigarette right now. Enjoy ! you deserve it! You gave it your best shot and never gave up. You fought long and hard.
(as any good marine) I can't believe you are gone. How quiet the back porch will be without you here helping to make some good food, drink and laugh with us. You will truly be missed, but, will always live in our hearts.
Love, Jena and Uncle Ricky

“ I am so deeply grieved for all of you and especially you, Ian. Whitney and you and my boys and I met at a very tough time for all of us. That bonded us all in a very close and special way, as if we had been friends a lifetime. We share so many beautiful memories that I will cherish for the rest of my life. Whitney has been the strongest, bravest and most self-determined woman I have ever known. The world is better for having known her and loses a shining star. I will miss her terribly.

“ I remember the first time I saw Whitney. It was in the hallway at Southport High School. She was with a friend walking and laughing and she had on the most awesome boots ever!! They were all fur and calf high. I thought wow, she must be really cool. Silly, I know, but hey I was a freshman and didn't know too much back then, LOL. I was so fortunate enough later to become your sister-in-law and marry my best friend; your brother Bryan. I know this little story may be lame to most of those who will read it, but I always remembered that for some reason and thinking how beautiful you were in those boots and wishing I could be just like you!! You were so much more beautiful inside and your heart was so big, you would have given ANYTHING for anyone, including donating an organ for someone you barely knew. You are now our Guardian Angel looking down on us. I'm sure gonna miss you and your cooking, although I did not get to indulge in your feasts enough. You were more than my sister-in-law, you were a real friend and I love you forever! XOXOXO, your broken hearted sister-in-law Kelli, till we meet again.....
